Foreword

When we look toward the future, we also think of the past - especially of the people and students who have traveled the trails of education before us.

Just as the early streets of our town were not paved, some of the trails of education are unpaved. We have learned through the years, with the help of our teachers and parents, what guideposts we were to follow. May you have the same privileges as you travel the trails of education these early pioneers traveled.

With these ideas in mind, we present to you the 1964 LONE WOLF annual.

Dear Gwen,

Kid, to put it bluntly, I don't think I'd be here right now if it wasn't for you. I've never had such a true-blue friend and buddy. I can tell you all my little (??) problems; things I'd never, ever tell anyone else. You're one of the most wonderful persons this world has ever had on its surface, and I know that we will always be the best of pals. I love ya, kid; I know I don't show it sometimes, and I'm sorry if I've ever hurt you with my "moods."

Gwen, you have a lot going for you; I think you know what I mean. Just always hang onto what you have now, and I know you'll always be happy. Don't make a big mess of your life like I did. Boy, did I goof!! But, I guess not everyone can have what they want most, now can they?

We've really had the fun (oh my gosh!), and I'm sure we'll have gobs more! Heavens to mergatroy -- some of the things we've done would never be believed by any jury!

Welp, I'm a-runnin' out of space, and a steering wheel isn't a very good desk, either. Always be an idiot & never stop tryin' - ha!

Love you muchly,

Linda

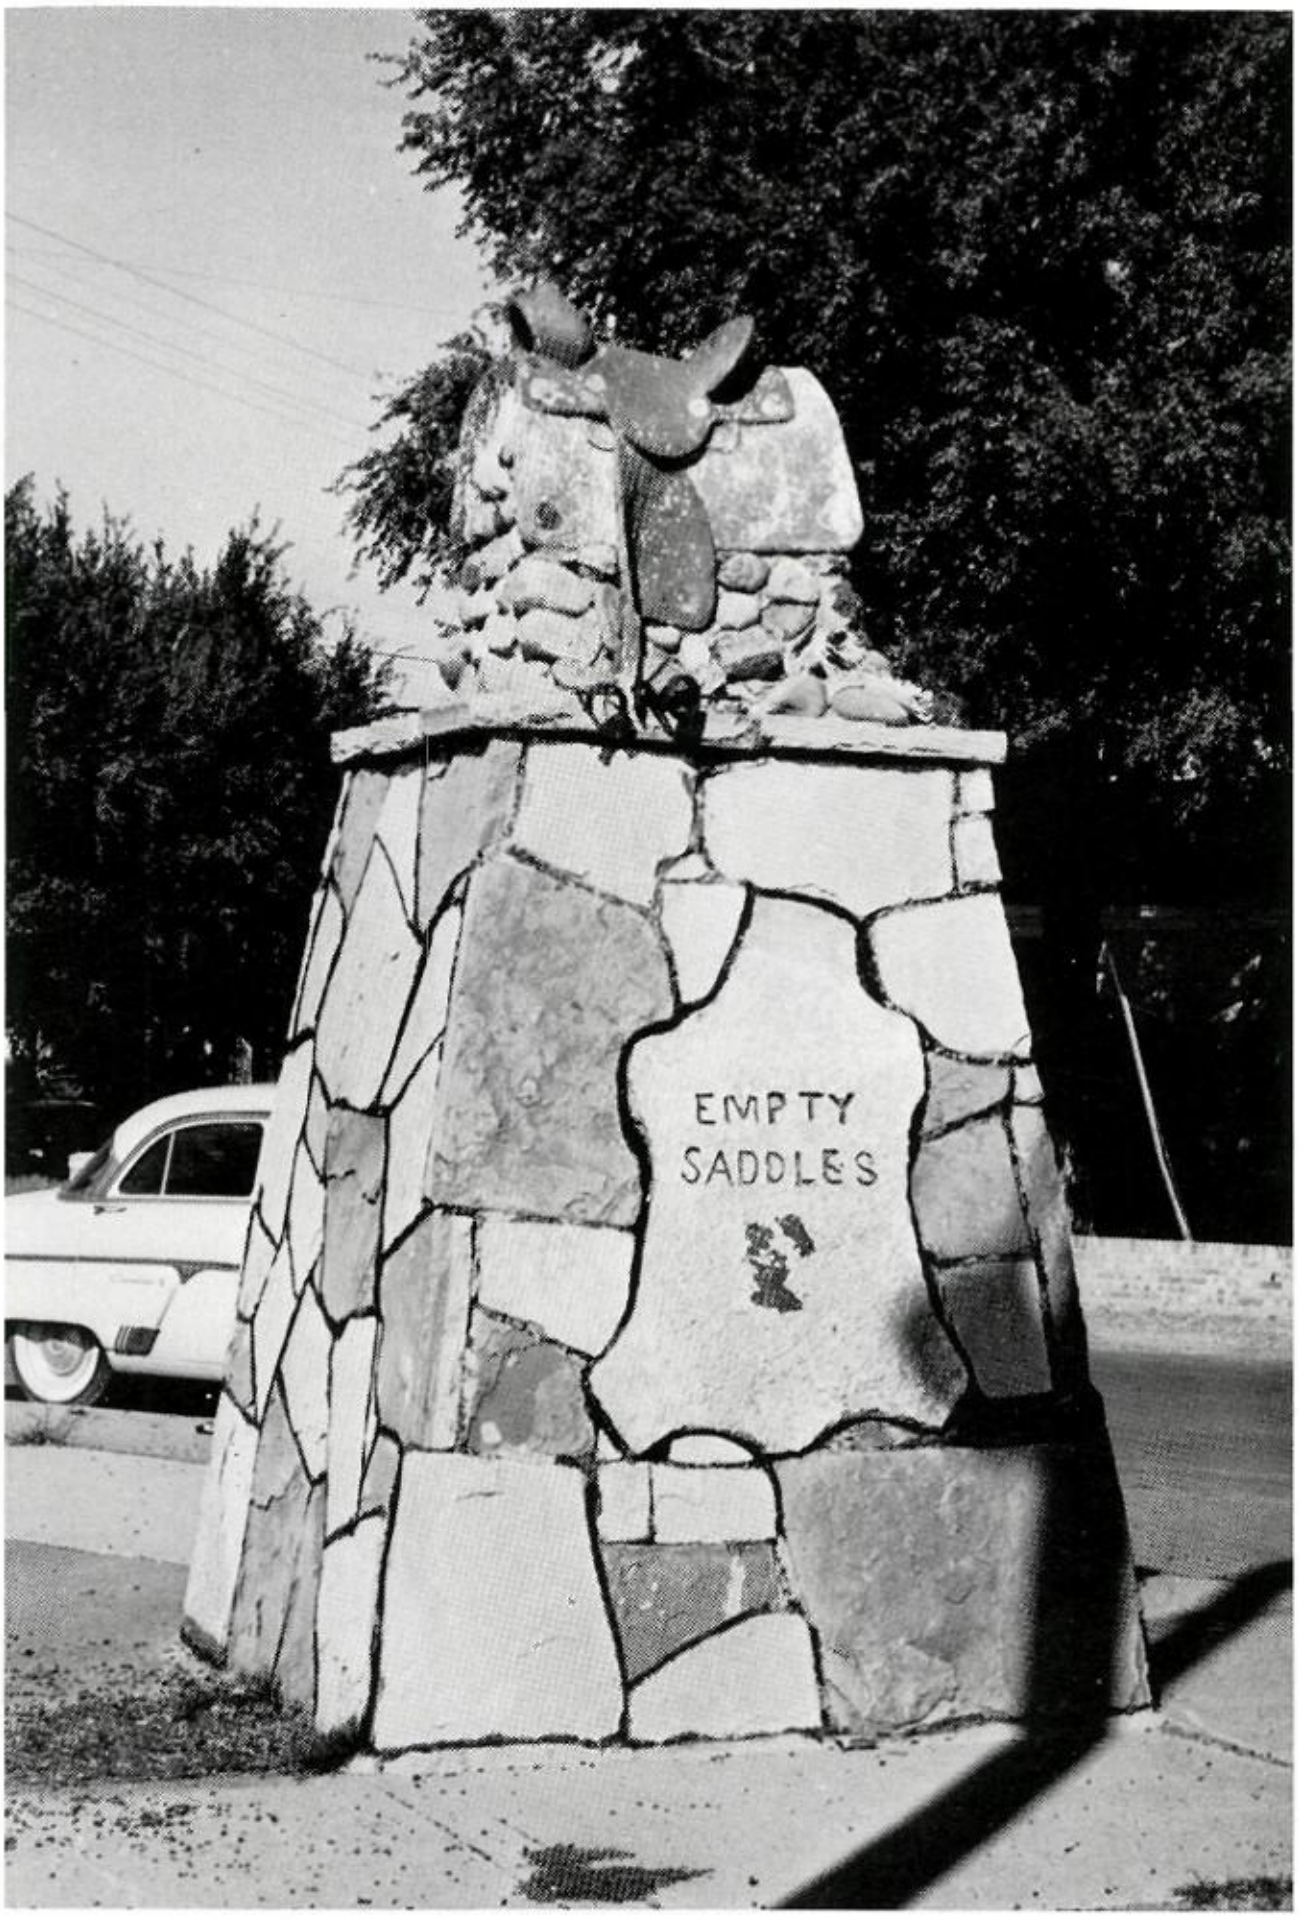
Dedication

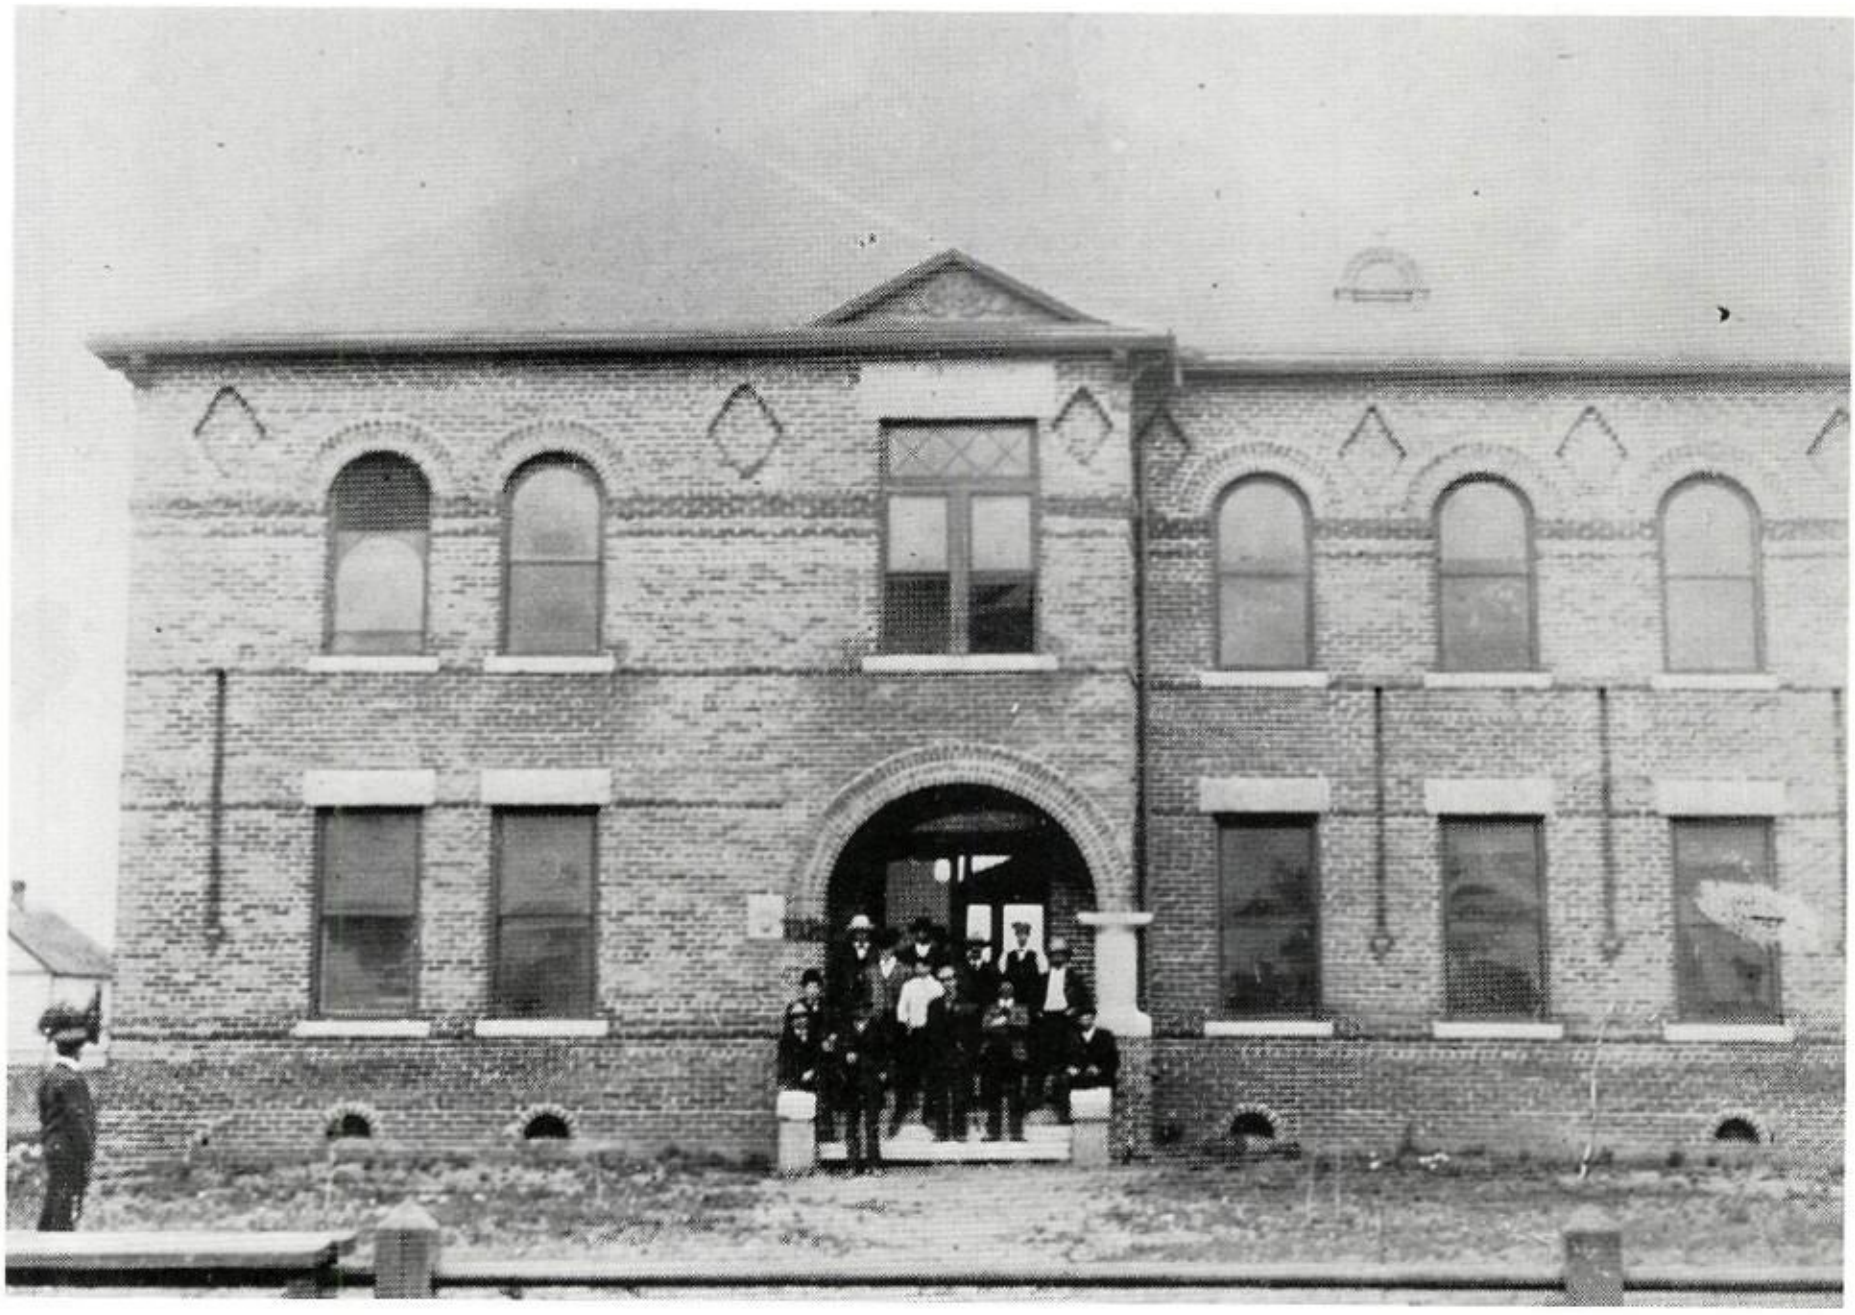


The Empty Saddles Monument is a visible reminder that a town was born sixty-three years ago.

This town came to be known as Dalhart, Texas. When a town is born, schools are born.

To the pioneer settlers who made it possible for us to have the Dalhart schools of today, this 1964 LONE WOLF annual is dedicated.

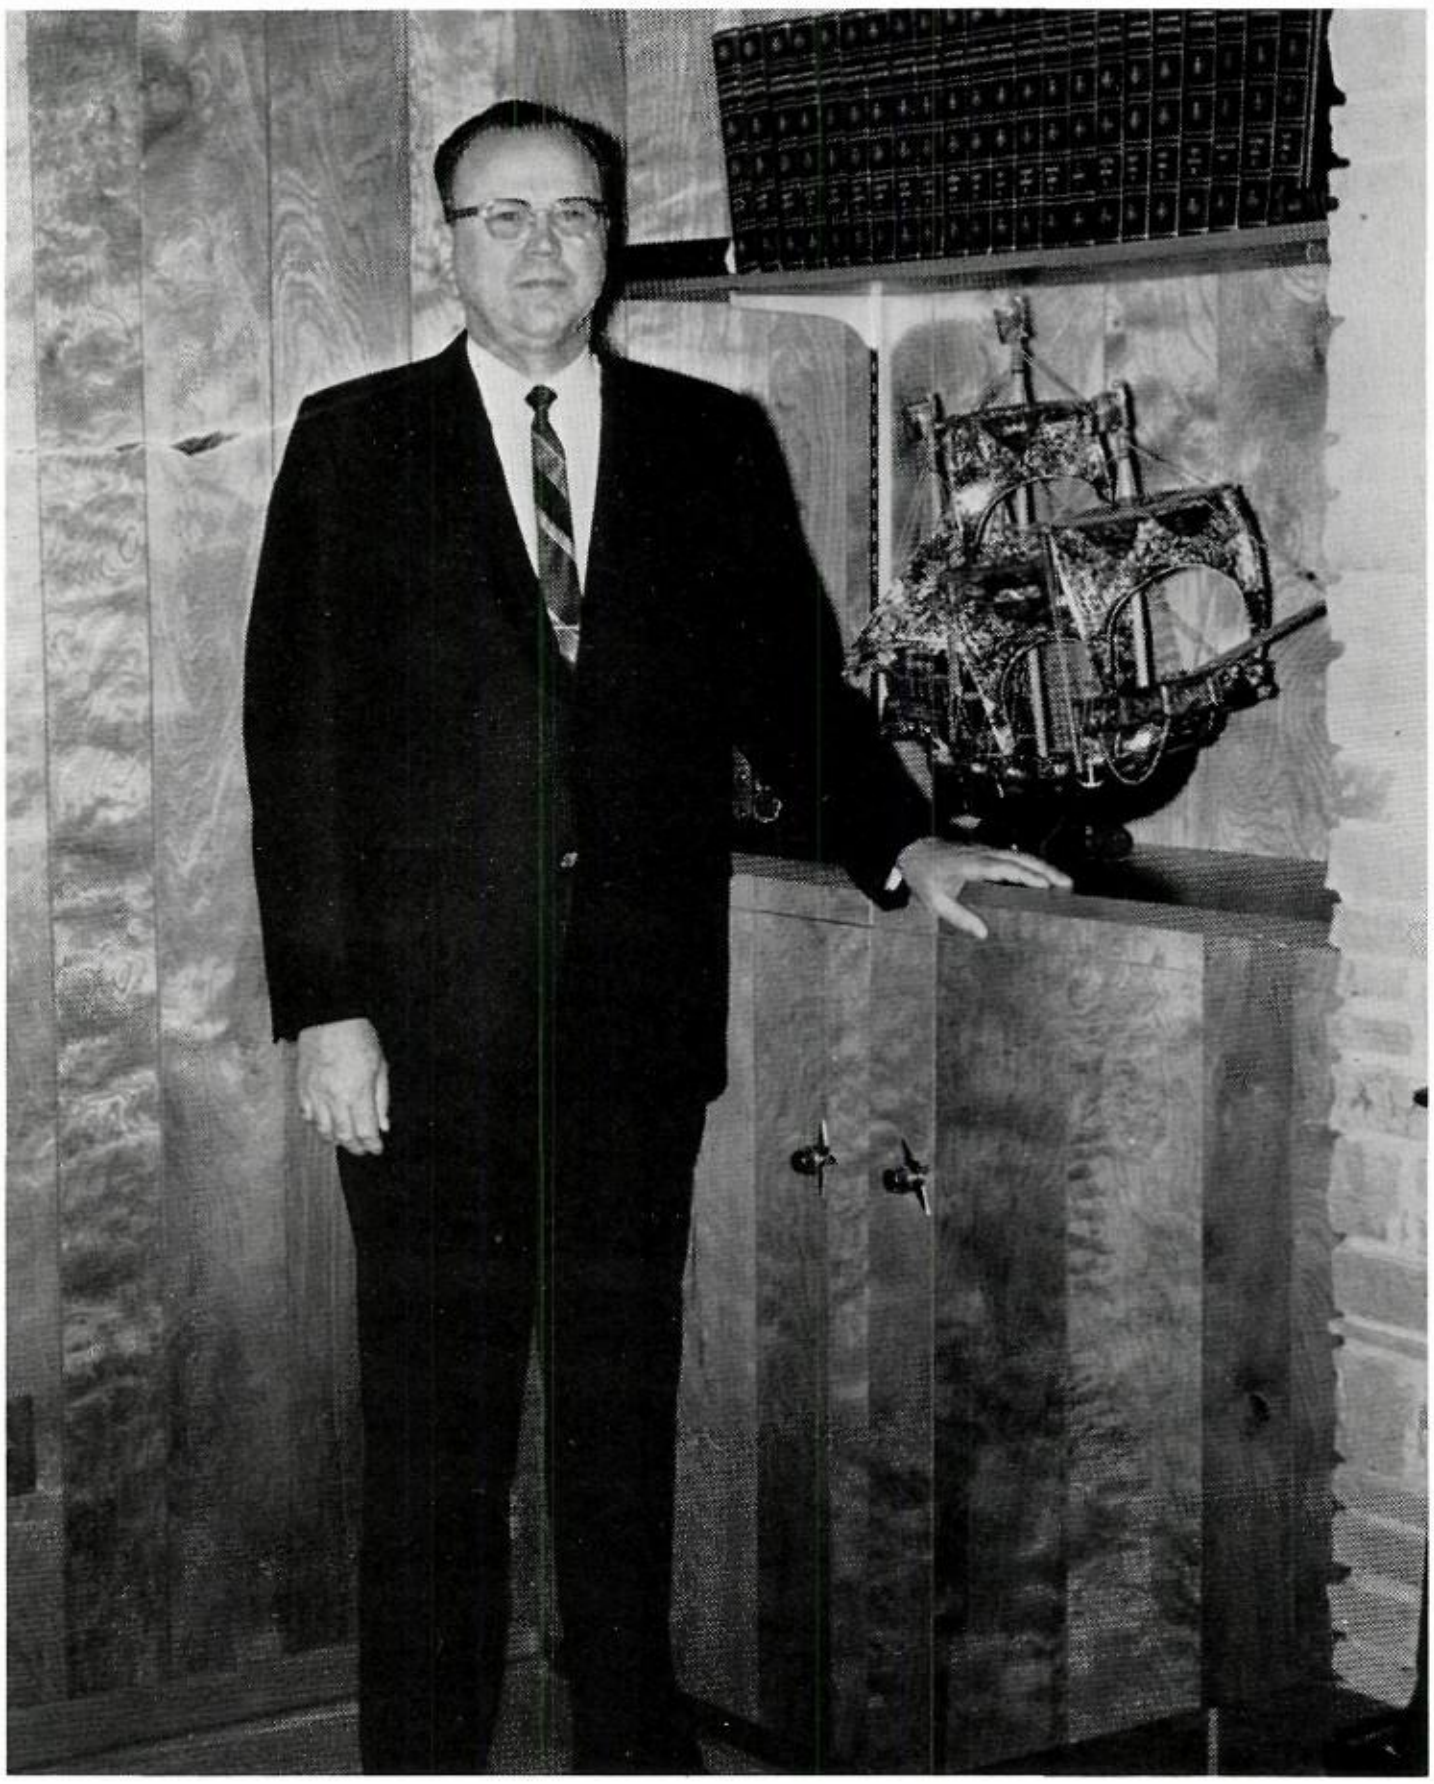
Administration



At the end of a straight road lies our town. The first building of administration, the Dallam County Courthouse, has long crumbled away. Still our town goes on.

The direction and form in which the individual grows lies in the strength of the men and women who gave him his start toward the life he shall build for the future.

Superintendent's Message



As a sentinel in a world of turmoil, the public school guides and helps to prepare the students of today for a brighter future.

When I view the Empty Saddle, the symbol of those dauntless pioneers who founded this town and its schools, I am humbled to be a part of this progress.

It has been a privilege and a pleasure to work with the students of this school, many of whom are descendants of those worthy pioneers.

To those who will leave us this year, may God's blessing go with you. May you find the road ahead all that you hope for. May all your dreams come true in the attainment of your life's goal.

Dean Skiles

Principal's Message

Congratulations to each 1964 graduate. Your class is to be commended for the maximum effort and leadership it has exhibited. I am extremely proud of your accomplishments and appreciate the gains Dalhart School has made through your labors. It is my sincere hope that each of you has learned to accept responsibility, that you have developed high principles and a real sense of value that will enable you to become an excellent citizen of America.

Also, congratulations to the annual staff for this fine publication. It will offer you many fond remembrances of the 1963-64 school year.

Thanks to each of you, faculty and students, for the diligence and enthusiasm shown in all phases of our school's program. As you look forward to next year, may you unselfishly strive to better yourselves, your school, and your community. With God's help you can. Through your unified efforts the fame of Dalhart High School can reach heights undreamed. Let this be your goal.

May God richly bless each of you.

Because each yearbook portrays the crew of students, we present our classes of today as they have grown larger and stronger from the strength and encouragement by the ones who have gone before.

Lynn Harruff

LYNN is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Harruff. He received an all-expense paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, in December of 1963, as an award for being State winner in the 1963 4-H awards program. Lynn, for the past eight years, has been one of the country's best known 4-H members. His beef calves through the years have won many honors at local and regional stock shows; his exhibits of registered Hereford breeding cattle have become consistent winners. He received the Eagle Scout award, highest in Boy Scouting in 1961 - so Lynn doesn't spend all his time with his beef cattle. He was Dallam 1962 Gold Star boy, an honor a 4-H'er can hold only once.

ERIC is the son of Mrs. Vieno Lahde Hughes. An accomplished musician, he plays clarinet in the Golden Wolf Band, saxophone in the stage band, and sings baritone in the choir. He has been named to the All-Regional Band five years, has been a member of the All-State Choir one year, has received medals for Division I ratings in clarinet solo and ensemble competition of University Interscholastic League, and has entered instrumental and vocal solo contests at the state level. He is recipient of the John Philip Sousa award, highest local honor to be earned by a Dalhart High School band member. At the state contests in Austin in June, 1963, Eric was named one of the nine outstanding musicians in Texas. A highlight of his music experiences was participation in the School Band of America which made a concert tour to England, Belgium, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Monaco, and France during the summer of 1963.
